Careers Focus Helps Inspire Students' Aspirations

Throughout the last week of the spring term, we helped inspire students across the school to think about their future career aspirations. Our spotlight on National Careers Week included daily careers roadshows, featuring a diverse range of professions and careers-based assemblies – all of which were extremely successful. Throughout the week we welcomed representatives from NHS Careers in Nursing, Zurich Insurance, Ellisons Finance, RAF Recruitment, The Royal Navy, Essex Police, the Central College of Animal Studies Veterinary nursing and NETT Teacher Training, along with our Sixth Form team, promoting study at Sigma Sixth and our IT team, highlighting the opportunities within IT and Network management.

It is never too early for students to start finding out what jobs and career paths interest them, which in turn helps direct them to study certain subjects. Equally, students can begin to link their favourite subjects and personal interests to certain career opportunities so that their future career is both stimulating and enjoyable! The job market is now very competitive and additional skills sit alongside traditional subject knowledge and exam results. We encourage students to involve themselves in any activity that they can use to their advantage in the future, which helps them stand out from their peers. This could be voluntary work, undertaking vocational awards, such as the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme, progression through to Explorer Scouts or Ranger Guides, attaining senior ranks in the Sea, Air or Army Cadet Groups or participation in National Community Service opportunities – to name but only a few.....

Our Careers Hub website contains a wealth of information, including opportunities for students in Years 8 upwards. Please find time to regularly re-visit the CCHS Careers Hub website, as new information is added and opportunities arise continually.

A new menu from our catering providers 'Tiller & Hobs', part of ISS World Catering group, is now being served daily in Clouds, offering a range of main meals, snacks and drinks. The comprehensive 3-week rotating menu is available on our Clouds Restaurant webpage and the current week being served can be found on our Parent 'Quick Links' Webpage. In addition, ISS have had to adjust their prices to reflect the inflationary impacts of food price rises. Please see last week's mailing for full details.

After students asking for Halal meat to be provided in Clouds; we can confirm all chicken products are Halal.
